Dear Friend,

Get ready for a game changer! Green Megatrends: 12 Top Trends to Help Planet Earth will be available in September. The book is edited and published by the National Sustainability Association and the National Environmental Hall of Fame.

At least 12 top green celebrities will join together with 12 top environmentalists to suggest the 12 top solutions to help reduce climate change. We hope the book and video become a "We Are the World" for planet Earth. We may even ask 12 of the top green musicians to join us.

Each of the selected celebrities and environmentalists will also be nominated to receive the National Environmental Hall of Fame for 2011.

The National Environmental Hall of Fame has already given national awards to Harrison Ford, Keely and Pierce Brosnan, Art Linkletter, William McDonough, Greg Nickels and me.

Green Megatrends will be available as a free download and go viral. This assures that up to 100,000 or more individuals will have access to it in the USA and world. It may become the most influential book to help the planet in 2011. It will offer holistic, 360 degree solutions to help reduce carbon to 360 ppm.

The solutions present a great energy plan for the USA. They are grounded in solutions already recommended by the IPCC, World Wildlife Federation, Greenpeace and European Union Council, Rocky Mountain Institute and Climate Progress.

Over 50 respected scientific bodies claim that climate change is accelerating. Unfortunately, this could lead to a catastrophe of droughts, famine, desertification, disease, species loss and coastal inundation.

However, the misinformation is also accelerating. We need to finally unite as one voice so the harmony of our chorus can break through all the noise. Joining as one team will allow us to present the best solutions in the simplest and most compelling way.

One single stick can be easily broken. A bundle of sticks together is difficult to break. Divided we fail. United We Stand for planet Earth!

The book includes information from over 50 top articles. In just one-half hour, millions of individuals may discover what very few know about the top solutions for climate change.

An online course will also be available for students and all individuals, so we can assure a profound understanding of what needs to be accomplished. We hope thousands of schools offer this course.

I am looking forward to up to 1,000,000 people signing the Green Megatrends Energy Plan for America petition. Then our voices and the voice of planet Earth will really be heard.

This petition will be a Vote for Planet Earth! It will be made available to all congressmen and presidential candidates. People really want to help and make a difference. Here is a plan most can understand and agree with.

Sincerely,

Ed Begley, Jr.
